

Tarjeta bicolor estampada en blanco y negro

UN PROYECTO DE NUESTRO PROGRAMA EN DIRECTO - MY PODCAST - 8 DE ABRIL DE 2024

SOBRE ESTE PROYECTO

Create a striking monochromatic birthday card featuring a bold two-tone design. By stamping the same floral pot image in black ink on white card and white ink on black card, then cutting and layering them together, you'll achieve a sophisticated contrasting effect. Finish with delicate watercolour-style floral embellishments and a 'Birthday Wishes' sentiment for an elegant handmade greeting.

PASO 4 DE 12

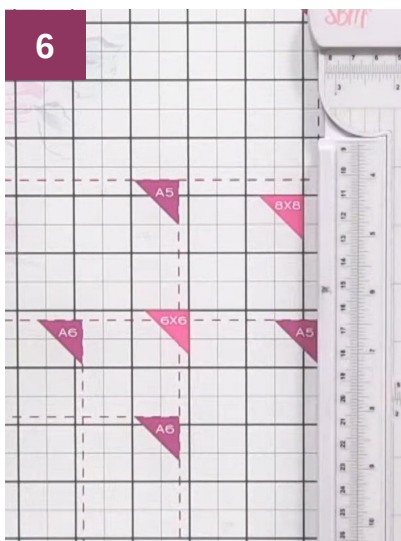

Ink your stamp with white pigment ink. Carefully stamp the image onto the black card, ensuring even pressure for a clear impression.

PASO 5 DE 12

Use a heat tool to set the white pigment ink on the black card. Hold the heat tool over the stamped image until the ink is completely dry to prevent smudging.

PASO 6 DE 12

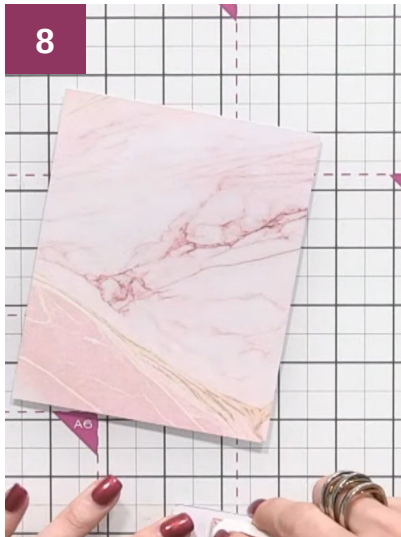

Cut both the black and white stamped pieces in half horizontally using a paper trimmer or guillotine.

VER ESTE PASO - 40:15

PASO 7 DE 12

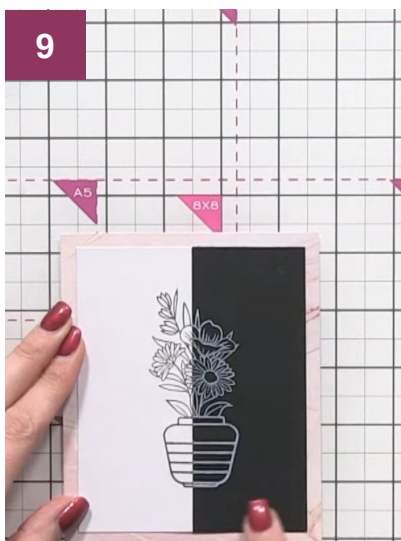

Swap the halves between the two cards so you have one card with a black stamped top and white stamped bottom, and another with a white stamped top and black stamped bottom.

PASO 8 DE 12

Mount the pink marble pattern paper from the kit onto your card base. Position one piece on each side of the card to create a two-tone effect.

Fussy-cut flower embellishments from the embellishment pack included in your kit. Cut carefully around the floral designs to create individual flower motifs.

VER ESTE PASO - 43:00

PASO 10 DE 12

Arrange and layer the cut-out flowers in a corner of the card. Use foam pads underneath the flowers to add dimension and depth to your design.

CONSEJOS DEL PROGRAMA

- Don't always use colour; sometimes black and white designs are striking and on-trend.
- If you have white pieces showing after fussy-cutting, blend a bit of colour around the edges with a blending brush to draw the eye away from the white outline.
- You can create two cards from one stamping session by using the offcuts, so you're not wasteful.
