PASSAGGIO 4 DI 10

Spray the stamped teapot image three times with water to activate the ink and create a watercolour effect. Allow the water to spread across the image naturally.

PASSAGGIO 5 DI 10

Gently dab the stamped teapot image with a damp baby wipe or cloth to lift excess ink, creating a watercolour effect. Allow the watercolour paper to absorb the ink for a few seconds without rushing, as it will not drink the ink as quickly as regular card stock.

PASSAGGIO 6 DI 10

Blot away any excess water puddles using a dry baby wipe, being careful not to disturb the stamped teapot image.

CONSIGLI DALLA PUNTATA

- Watercolour card with 100% cotton content gives better results than regular card stock because the ink sits on the surface longer, allowing you to move colour around more easily.
- If the detail stamp does not show enough contrast in the same colour, you can add a second layer in black ink to bring the details to life.
- Always paint a shadow underneath stamped objects to prevent them appearing to float on the page.
