Interactive Animal Theatre with Magnetic Elements

UN PROGETTO DALLA NOSTRA DIRETTA - HOBBYMAKER TV - 19 GIUGNO 2026

IL PROGETTO FINITO

IL PROGETTO

Create a charming interactive theatre for children featuring a decorative red scalloped frame with gold accents. This project uses die-cutting and magnetic strips to make moveable animal characters that can be positioned on interchangeable scenic backgrounds, combining papercraft techniques with simple magnetism for an engaging play experience.

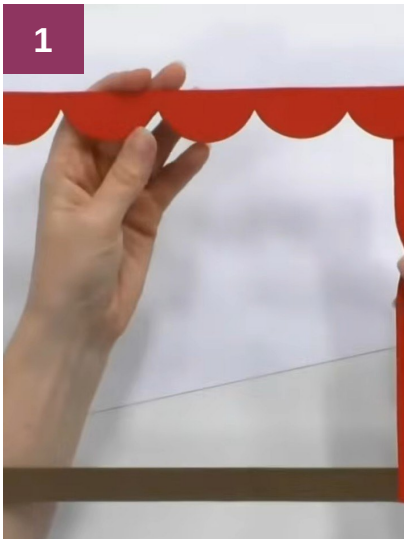
PASSO PASSO



PASSAGGIO 1 DI 8

Cut a red cardstock frame with a scalloped decorative edge along the top and sides. Remove the centre piece to create a theatre frame opening.

PASSAGGIO 2 DI 8

Attach the decorative frame pieces around all four sides of the white card base. Position the red scalloped strip along the top edge, the red strips with gold bands on the left and right sides, and the brown strip along the bottom edge to create a complete border.

PASSAGGIO 3 DI 8

Apply double-sided tape to the left side, bottom, and right side of the red theatre frame, leaving the scalloped top edge without tape. Position the tape along the inner edges of the frame where it will attach to the backing.

6

PASSAGGIO 6 DI 8

Slot the printed scene into the open top of the theatre to change the backdrop. Position your animal magnets on the scene - the raccoon, bear, and rabbit can be placed anywhere on the woodland background.

8

PASSAGGIO 8 DI 8

Place the die-cut animal characters (raccoon, bear, and rabbit) onto the woodland scene background. The magnets on the back of each animal will attach to the magnetic strips behind the scene, allowing you to move them around to create different stories and arrangements.

CONSIGLI DALLA PUNTATA

- You can change the scene by swapping out the printed backgrounds in the theatre opening.
- Children can move the animals around to act out different scenes.
