EEN PROJECT UIT ONZE LIVESHOW - CREATE AND CRAFT SHOW 24TH JAN - 24 JANUARI 2023

OVER DIT PROJECT

Create a stunning rustic wood grain textured background card featuring rich orange tones with a weathered, distressed finish. This technique uses oak slice and creative panel dies to produce an authentic wood effect, perfect for vintage-style cards, seasonal greetings, or as a striking backdrop for stamped images and embellishments. The layered die-cut design creates depth and visual interest with its natural wood grain texture.

STAP 2 VAN 7

Swatch your ink pads across the cut oak slices to create a weathered wood appearance. Use teal, woody, or rustic colours to build up the texture. Apply the ink in sweeping motions to mimic natural wood grain.

STAP 3 VAN 7

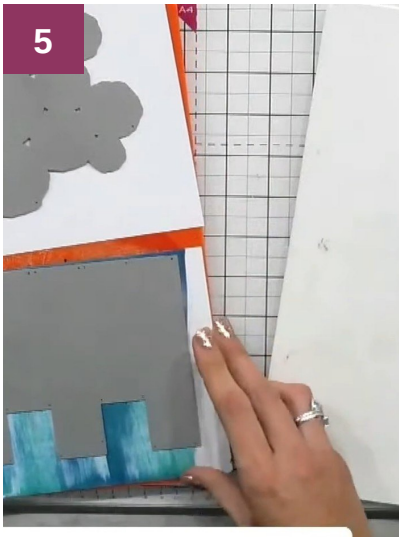

Run the creative panel die through your die-cutting machine with grey craft card to cut out the wood grain textured panel.

STAP 4 VAN 7

Apply a darker shade of grey ink around the exterior edges of the cut panels using a blending tool to enhance the wood grain effect and add depth.

STAP 5 VAN 7

Cut the individual panel elements apart as needed for your design.

Carefully separate the grey die-cut pieces from the orange and grey panels. Trim around each element to prepare them for layering.

STAP 6 VAN 7

Arrange the individual wood grain panels on your white card base.

Position them diagonally across the card, overlapping slightly to create an interesting layered effect.

BEKIJK DEZE STAP - 31:30

STAP 7 VAN 7

Arrange the stamped panels on your card base. You can glue them together to create a complete wall panel effect, or trim them off at the card edge for a partial panel look.

TIPS UIT DE SHOW

- The individual elements allow you to create your own arrangement rather than using them as one solid piece.
- These dies work well for creating shelves, backdrops for vases, or rustic Christmas designs.
- You can embellish the rivets with rusty patina effects if desired for added realism.
