

Botanische bladkaart met aquarel

EEN PROJECT UIT ONZE LIVESHOW - CREATE AND CRAFT TV - 11 MAART 2024

OVER DIT PROJECT

Create a stunning botanical card featuring a vibrant yellow flower with hot foil detailing. Using watercolour inks on pre-foiled designs, you'll achieve a beautiful resist effect where the gold foil repels the colour, creating professional-looking petals with luminous highlights. This simple technique produces an elegant handmade card with minimal effort and maximum impact.

STAP 2 VAN 6

Using a wet brush, apply water to one petal area of the botanical design on the page. Work on one petal at a time to keep the area wet for colouring.

3

STAP 3 VAN 6

Using a water brush, drop watercolour ink onto the wet coral petal and drag it outwards across the area to blend the colour.

4

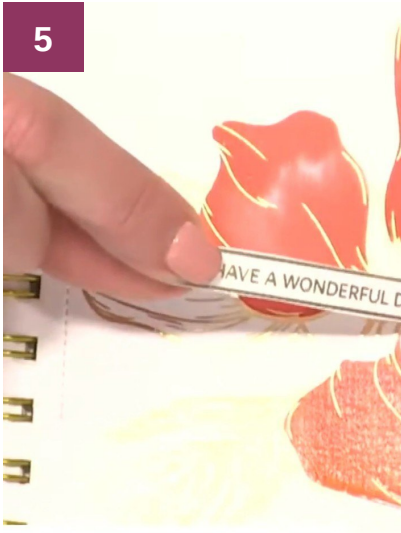

STAP 4 VAN 6

Allow the gold foil to resist the watercolour ink, creating natural colour variation in the petals and leaves. The foiled areas will remain lighter, adding depth and dimension to your botanical design.

5

STAP 5 VAN 6

Cut out a gold foil sentiment from the botanical colouring book using scissors or a guillotine. The sentiment shown reads 'HAVE A WONDERFUL DAY'.

STAP 6 VAN 6

TIPS UIT DE SHOW

- The gold foil will resist your ink, so even young crafters can achieve professional results.
- The watercolour card stock has high cotton content, so it stays wet longer than traditional card, giving you more time to work.
- You can leave the pages in the book and fold them back, or tear them out and trim them down in a guillotine.
