

Watercoloured Pear Card with Embossing and...

13 JUNE 2025

Create a stunning greeting card featuring beautifully watercoloured pears with embossed texture and fine stamped details. The pears are hand-painted in soft yellows, oranges and greens with delicate shading to add depth and dimension. This elegant design is mounted on kraft-coloured card stock, combining watercolour blending techniques with embossing and stamping for a professional finish.

STEP 2

Using a clean watercolour brush, wet the entire embossed pear area with clean water. Ensure the water covers all the raised embossed details of the pear and leaves.

STEP 3

Drop watercolour paint onto the wet embossed pear image in multiple colours including pink, orange and yellow. Allow the water to blend the colours naturally on the card.

STEP 4

Using a clean, damp brush, soften any harsh colour lines by blending the edges of the watercolour on your pear design. Work gently to create smooth transitions between colours.

STEP 5

Using a wet paintbrush, add water to the edge of the pear shape. Paint the pear with yellow, orange and pink watercolours, blending the colours together whilst wet.

STEP 6

Using a damp brush with diluted grey ink, add shadow definition around the exterior edges of the pears and leaves to create depth.

STEP 7

Stamp the pear design over the watercoloured area using black ink to add fine detail and definition to the image.
Watch this step: 1:14:45 into the show

TIPS FROM THE SHOW

- Work wet-on-wet with watercolours to allow colours to blend naturally rather than controlling them too precisely.
- If you apply too much colour, use a thirsty brush (water squeezed out) to lift colour back out.
- You can restore embossed detail by running the card back through the embossing folder if it becomes flattened during painting.
