

Layered Hydrangea Stencil Card with Blended Inks

31 MARCH 2025

Create a stunning multi-layered hydrangea flower card using coordinating stencils and blended inks in various colours. The layering technique builds dimension and depth, resulting in an artistic, gallery-quality piece that looks like a piece of artwork.

From our live show MY PODCAST - Catch my latest updates broadcast 31st March 2025 (31 March 2025) - watch it from 1:11:00.

WHAT YOU WILL NEED

See the show for everything used.

Prepare your watercolour card stock and position stencil number one aligned with the top and sides of your card.

Watch this step: 1:11:00 into the show

Using a blending brush and pink ink, apply colour through the first stencil, building darker tones around the edges for dimension.

Watch this step: 1:12:30 into the show

Line up stencil number two and apply teal ink through the openings to add the next layer of the flower.
Watch this step: 1:13:45 into the show

Apply purple ink through stencil number two on different areas to create colour variation and depth.
Watch this step: 1:14:15 into the show

Position stencil number three and apply green ink for the leaf details, keeping the application lighter overall.
Watch this step: 1:15:00 into the show

Add darker green to the leaf tips and edges to create definition and make the leaves appear more realistic.
Watch this step: 1:16:30 into the show

Layer teal ink over some of the green areas to add additional colour interest and blend the tones together.
Watch this step: 1:17:30 into the show

Continue layering with remaining stencils, building up the flower petals and foliage with your chosen colour palette.

TIPS FROM THE SHOW

- If making multiple cards, create all stencil number one applications across three pieces of card before moving to stencil number two, rather than cleaning the stencil between each card.
- Don't be afraid to experiment with colour combinations through the same stencil to create unique effects.
- You can position the flower to come in from the side of the card for a more artistic composition, rather than keeping it fully within the card boundaries.
