Blend the medium and light colours together using circular motions with the light marker to soften the transition between the shades on the bell.

Apply the darkest yellow marker to the remaining uncoloured area of the bell.

Blend the colour smoothly with the medium yellow shade where they meet.

Using a wet brush, drag the gold ink across the coloured bells to blend it smoothly over the surface.

Allow the gold to dry completely.

Cut out the coloured bells and leaves using scissors or a craft knife. Mount the cut-out image onto your card base using 3D foam pads or foam tape to create dimension.

TIPS FROM THE SHOW

- Always place paper underneath your work when using alcohol markers so the ink is absorbed and doesn't puddle on a glass mat.
- Keep your light source consistent from the same direction across all elements of your image.
- Use just three colours—light, medium, and dark—to keep shading simple and avoid overwhelming yourself.
